The Total Derivatives Fixed Income Forum

Tuesday, 18 September 2007 • The QEII Centre, Westminster, London

Euromoney Conferences and Total Derivatives – the premier source of real time news and analysis of the global fixed income derivatives markets – present the only independent conference dedicated solely to fixed income derivatives. This inaugural event will be editorially driven, featuring key international investors and banks, who will talk about their strategy over the next 12 months.

Expertise in derivatives, and staying abreast of the latest innovations, is the key to success for the fixed income manager. This Forum is the place for interest rate derivatives professionals to meet, and discuss new developments in the marketplace.

This one day event will bring together all the key players in the market, from the top structuring banks to investors. The day will be broken up into plenary discussions and more focused roundtables.

Join Euromoney and Total Derivatives on the 18 September at the only event dedicated to users of fixed income derivative products.

Topics

- Achieving higher returns in a low volatility environment
- Derivatives strategies in liability driven investment
- Exotic inflation-linked products
- The latest techniques in managing longevity and mortality risk
- The role of derivatives in investment portfolio optimization
- Structured derivative solutions for liability managers
- Fresh developments in the e-trading of fixed income derivatives

† For institutional investors, liability managers and hedge fund portfolio managers, attendance is free. All other applications will be reviewed on a case by case basis.

“The conferences give a good sense of how advanced the industry is and to see the people behind the products. It is a great place to generate ideas and meet interesting people.”

David Tavadian, Strategist, Commerzbank AG

“The Euromoney conference provides an opportunity for investors, borrowers and other market practitioners to interact. It is the ideal occasion to learn more about an evolving asset class and establish useful contacts for the future.”

Steven Major, Head of Fixed Income Strategy, HSBC

“Euromoney once again came up trumps. Euromoney conferences always provide an excellent platform to highlight the key issues of the moment.”

Dr Michael Heise, Chief Economist, Allianz Dresdner

Why should you apply?

- Listen to high-level debate and analysis from the key players in the market
- Gain an insight into how institutional investors view this asset class and their strategy for it over the next 12 months
- Network with the key structuring banks and investors in this asset class
- Learn about the latest innovations to produce alpha from fixed income derivatives
- Attendance is free†

About the organisers

euromoney conferences

Euromoney Conferences arranges more than 50 international events in over 20 countries around the world from Austria to Vietnam, Jamaica to Japan. These conferences and awards dinners bring together leading policymakers, business leaders, investors and financial markets players for frank and fearsome analysis, discussion, debate - and even a little negotiation. They are industry-leading events.

Total derivatives is the prime source of real-time news and analysis of the global fixed income derivatives markets. Our editorial team – the leader in its sector - draws on trading expertise gained at top-tier investment banks and combines that with the unparalleled contacts and experience of the best journalists in the sector. The result: timely, accurate, succinct and informed news and analysis - the best out there.
